US Army Reserve Command
Survivor Outreach Services

Dear Friends,

I am proud to recognize the Army Reserve Family Programs for its Survivor Outreach Services. This support helps family members and friends who have lost a loved one while serving in the United States Army.

We owe a tremendous debt of gratitude to the men and women who have chosen to serve our nation in uniform. While we honor the fallen, we also honor their family members who have sacrificed so much for our freedoms. The strength and support of our military families is a vital part of our national defense. I am proud of programs and organizations like the Army Reserve Family Programs for their continued efforts to assist families in finding information, support, and other resources for their loved ones.

Again, I thank the Army Reserve Family Programs for providing survivor services. Your efforts mean so much to the people you reach and I look forward to hearing of your continued success.

Sincerely,

Marco Rubio
United States Senator
